

DASH Listserv Membership

The Disability Advocacy Support Hub (DASH) has created a Listserv for disability advocacy groups. The Listserv is designed to allow disability advocacy groups in Pennsylvania to share information and support each other. You and members of your group can ask questions or get advice about disability advocacy from other groups and you can share the things that your group has learned. The DASH Listserv will bring together groups from all across Pennsylvania that advocate for people with many different disabilities. It will give you the chance to find other groups to work with and to build coalitions. To become a member of the DASH Listserv, please complete the following information about yourself and your group and email it to dash@drnpa.org
