

PABSS Project

Information for Beneficiaries of Social Security

This information is for Social Security beneficiaries who are in the process of preparing for work, seeking work, or working. The PABSS Project protects the rights of SSDI beneficiaries and SSI recipients who have a disability and wish to gain or continue work. PABSS services are free.

The PABSS Project assists Social Security beneficiaries to overcome discrimination and barriers to obtaining work, returning to work, and/or maintaining work. This includes barriers that impede access to vocational and rehabilitation services, barriers to employment and support services (including transportation) necessary to enter the workplace, and reasonable accommodation for your disability at your place of employment. In Pennsylvania, PABSS services are provided through:
